Hi Jennifer, for an updated list of accessibility standards and standards containing accessibility requirements/recommendations please visit http://www.tiresias.org/research/standards/report\_10.htm
Whilst this is dated June 2009, I recently provided updated information to the UK RNIB for posting on the Tiresias web site, but it has yet to be refreshed. I've enquired as to when the new information will appear and await a response.

Following Dr. John Gill's departure from the RNIB it is possible that the Tiresias site will not be updated. I'm contracted to provide one more report of updated information at the end of December. I've no information as to what happens after that date.

My best wishes....Richard
